*I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.
Kilmer.*

*Men are of two kinds, and he
Was of the kind I'd like to be.
Some preach their virtues, and a few
Express their lives by what they do.
That sort was he. No flowery phrase
Or glibly spoken words of praise
Won friends for him. He wasn't cheap
Or shallow, but his course ran deep,
And it was pure. You know the kind.
Not many in a life you find
Whose deeds outrun their words so far
That more than what they seem they are.*

*Men are of two kinds, and he
Was of the kind I'd like to be.
No back door gossip linked his name
With any shady tale of shame.
If ever man on earth was free
And independent, it was he.
No broken pledge lost him respect,
He met all men with head erect,
And when he passed I think there went
A soul to yonder firmament
So white, so splendid and so fine
It came almost to God's design.*

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

WALTER W. PARKER, A. B., A. M., LL. D.

To everybody into whose hands this volume of the 1931 Ranger falls—greetings. Institutional morale means much to the future welfare of any college. Contributions to the healthy morale of Northwestern by students, former students, and friends everywhere are greatly appreciated. Your alma mater is no greater and no better than you think it is. It can never be. Your interest and your attitude is a tangible asset. You represent your alma mater in the community in which you live or teach. Don't allow a graduate or a former student of another institution to be any more enthusiastic in his support of his alma mater than you are in your support of yours.

The dominant idea of Northwestern is service through education. The entire resources of the institution are dedicated to this purpose.

May success attend your efforts and prosperity be your lot.

Sincerely yours,

W. W. PARKER.

PASSING SHOW

Most of us have reserved in our minds memory, a corner set apart, where we hide memories and happenings of the past. It is yet far in the future when we will be the possessor of a clientele capable of requiring every minute of our attention, or when our income tax will be larger than our dreams of a yearly income. When this time arrives the things of the world will seem trivial and we would be glad to give a year's salary to retard time in its flight. It is a great joy to sit down before the open fireplace with the old cigar or pipe and watch the smoke curl lazily towards the ceiling and to dream of the days spent at old Northwestern.

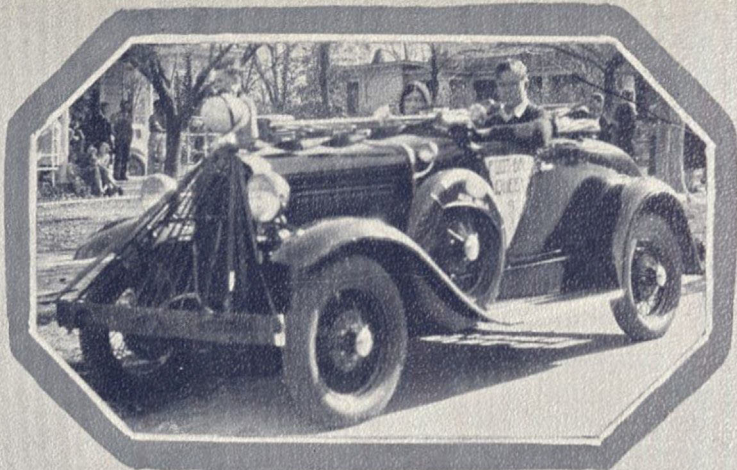

Pick up your 1931 Ranger and turn to the following pages and live again those golden days of old. Fading memories will revive again and you will live once more the night before exams, Sunday morning headaches, fraternity dances, the class characters and all the others; and will be happy in the thoughts of the good old days.

The following pages are dedicated to the days "when your hair has turned to silver."

THE RANGERS
COME HOME

Squint, our football captain made a good chauffeur in the big parade. Zelma, our Queen was nifty in her Red and Black garb.

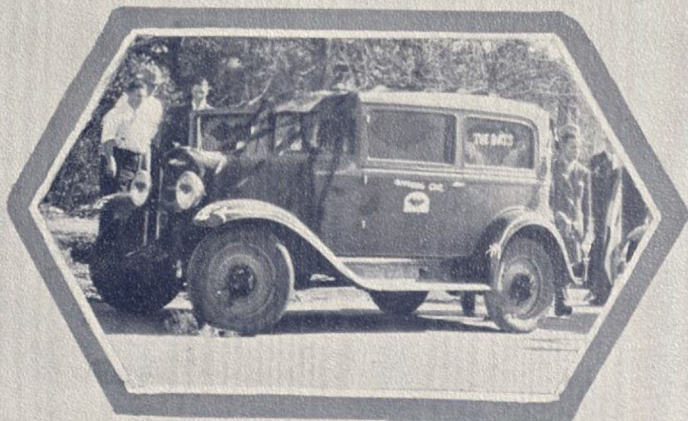

Two homecomers were Wiley White and Jerry Hollman. Welcome home boys! Wiley was one of the judges of the parade.

The Sigma Taus were conspicuous with their "Welcome" sign on their house.

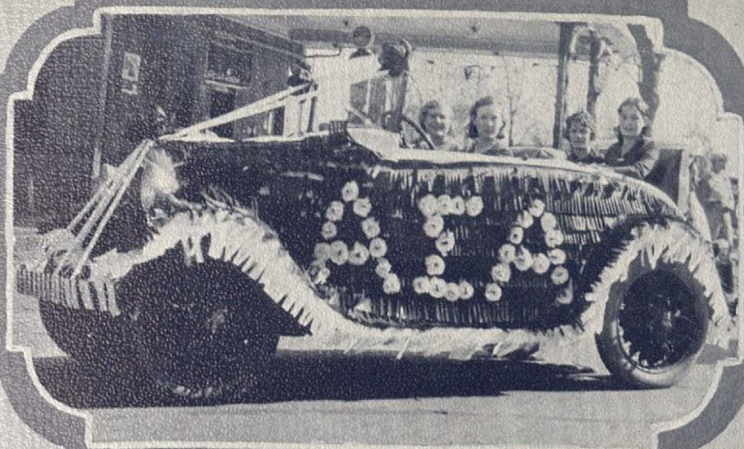

The "Bats" were out in broad day light.

The Alphas know their colors and how to display them.

2nd Prize

These fair Tri Sigs also strutted their stuff. Don't they look happy?

3rd Prize

The Girls' Pep Band added lots of music, lots of color, and some noise to the parade.

Southeastern, while hung in effigy all afternoon came to life at night, and went home with a grin on their faces.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The importance of physical education in the college curriculum of today is a recognized fact. Students no longer have to be urged to participate in the athletic program that is being offered in the colleges but their eagerness to take part has taxed the playground and gymnasium facilities of every school.

The Northwestern student body can look back with pride over its accomplishments in physical education and athletics for the year 1930-1931. Every sport has had more candidates for its squad than ever before in the history of Northwestern. The football team under the tutelage of Wistar Newby undertook the most ambitious schedule any Northwestern football team ever tackled. They ran roughshod over the Pan-Handle Aggies, Sterling, Northeastern, Friends and Bethel. The Central, Southeastern, and East Central games resulted in losses and many injuries. The last game with Southwestern resulted in a 7 to 7 tie.

L. A. WARD
Chairman, Stadium Committee

John McCormick as basket ball coach had most of the teams bowing to the Rangers. He gave the Northwestern quintette a flying start on their invasion of Kansas and Missouri by winning four out of six games played. The two games lost were to the strong Maryville Teachers, national collegiate champions of 1930. However these losses were revenged by defeating the Maryville boys when they returned the game on our court. The Rangers were contenders for the title throughout the season with one of the best basket ball teams Northwestern has had for many years.

The prospects are good for a successful track and tennis season, and both coaches are optimistic over the outlook.

Taking the entire athletic year as a whole, it has been very successful.

NEWBY FIELD

On November the eighth 1929, at the annual Alumni Banquet plans were formulated for improving the football field. The original plans looked forward only to sodding the field and building of bleachers, but as enthusiasm grew, it was found possible to add lighting equipment.

Actual work on the project began in February, 1930. Much leveling and grading had to be done before putting out the sod. With the coming of Spring, a water system was installed and the entire field set to Bermuda grass. Late in the summer, lighting equipment was erected and with the opening of school in September, building material was purchased and bleachers, having a seating capacity of approximately two thousand, were built, giving Northwestern a plant that leaves little to be desired.

Tribute should be paid to the individual who was the "spark plug" from the beginning of the project. Thus when the name of Newby Field was presented, it met with the unanimous approval of all Northwestern Oklahoma.

Northwestern State Teachers' College feels honored in having the field dedicated to Wister D. Newby.

WISTAR D. NEWBY

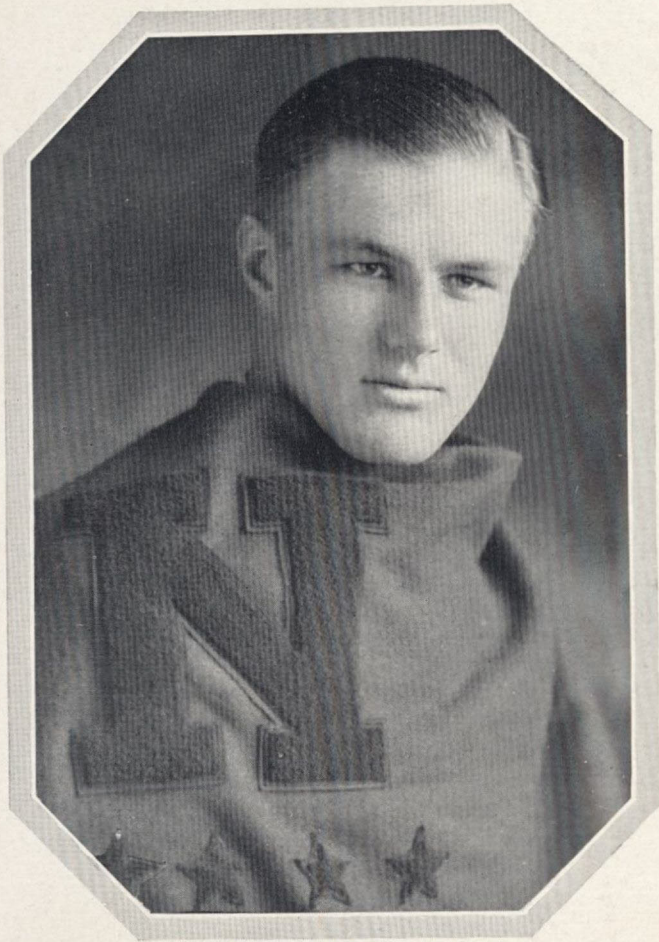

Coach Wistar D. Newby came to Northwestern in 1927, after two successful years of coaching at Cherokee High School. In the short time that Coach Newby has been with Northwestern he has won the admiration of the student body, and the respect of the friends of the college. His love of the game and his capable handling of men cause Northwestern fans to feel that the management of its football campaigns is in capable hands.

Mr. Newby is a graduate of Friends University. Since entering the coaching game he has taken work at various coaching schools under Warner of Leland Stanford, Rockne of Notre Dame, Jones of Southern California, Spears of Wisconsin, Roper of Princeton and Yost of Michigan.

REVIEW OF SEASON

With the opening of the 1930 football season, Northwestern had something new in the way of football to offer to the fans of Northwestern Oklahoma—Night football—to be played on one of the best sodded fields in the state. Gone forever, were the days of mud battles and games played in the swirling clouds of dust which characterized the games of former years.

With the return of fifteen letter men, Coach Newby had a splendid nucleus around which to build a great team. With these veterans and several promising Freshmen, Newby developed a machine which the Pan-Handle Aggies were unable to stop in the opening and dedication game played Sept. 26th. Under the brilliant leadership of Captain Cochran, the Rangers out-plunged and out-passed the Aggies to a 34-0 victory. Dennis, Cochran, and Hardwick each scored one touchdown, while Eubanks, the Ranger's plunging half-back, crossed the goal line twice.

In the second game of the season, the Rangers successfully invaded Kansas to win from Sterling College 27-7. Although outweighed 15 pounds to the man, the Rangers were able to gain through the Sterling line at will. The wonderful, machine-like work of the Ranger line was the feature of the game. The first touch down came as the result of short passes over the line with Gautier, sophomore half-back, on the receiving end. The second and third counters were repetitions of the first, with Goakie receiving passes over the line. The last counter came when Spoon, fleet half, raced around end.

In the third game of the year, Northeastern was swamped 28-6 on the new Newby field under the lights. This was the first conference game for both teams and the victory placed Northwestern in the 1000% column. After an even battle in mid-field, Dennis smashed through the line for the first counter. Then Tate raced 40 yards for the next counter, after taking a pass from McGee. Spoon showed his heels to the visiting team for the third touch down and Cochran finished the scoring by placing the pig skin over the goal line after receiving a pass from McGee.

The following week Northwestern played host to the strong Friends University team, who they were able to turn back 14-0. McGee plunged over the line for the first score after a long pass had placed the ball within scoring distance. Spoon scored in the second half with a beautiful run around end. The defensive work of the line and offensive driving power of the backfield was responsible for the win. This game made four wins and no losses for Northwestern.

The Rangers next showed their superiority over Bethel College by defeating them 27-0. With four regulars out because of injuries, the Rangers were somewhat crippled, but had plenty power left to win, keeping their record clean. On the sixth play of the game, Tate raced 30 yards for a touch down. He scored again in the first quarter, bringing the count 14-0. In the third and fourth quarters, Eichinger, freshman half, broke loose for touch downs.

The Rangers, a crippled team, next invaded the Bronc's stronghold and were handed the first defeat of the season. The Ranger offense that had carried them through five games without defeat, failed to function and only at times did the defense stiffen. The boys had to come home with the little end of a 21-0 score.

With a week's lay off after the Central game, a somewhat rejuvenated, but yet crippled team met Southeastern in the home coming game on Newby field, before

fifty-eight

a record breaking crowd. The two teams battled on even terms the first three quarters, but in the closing minutes of play, Bowden of Southeastern, picked a pass out of the air and raced for the winning touchdown. Southeastern 7—Northwestern 0.

The following week, the Rangers played the East Central Tigers at Ada where they were overwhelmingly defeated 41-7. The Ranger team failed to function and the Tigers scored at will. During the last quarter, the Rangers seemingly found themselves and outplayed the Tigers. Cochran scored after the ball had been placed on the one yard line by a series of line plays and passes.

The final game of the season was played at Weatherford, Thanksgiving Day. Southwestern scored in the third quarter on a long pass and it looked like a sure victory for the Bulldogs. But in the last five minutes, the Rangers hit their old stride and marched down the field for the tying score which was made by Eichinger. The game ended 7-7. The unquestionable feature of the game was the defensive playing of Captain Cochran.

The closing of the football season also marked the closing of the football career of seven Ranger stars. They are: Captain Glenn Cochran, Ralph Tate, Allen Murry, Wilbur Findly, Gully Waters, Francis Demuth, and Pat McGee. These men have all played four years for Northwestern with the exception of McGee, who has played but two. These men have all been valuable men on the squad and will be greatly missed next year. Most of these men will enter the coaching field next fall, and Northwestern wishes them success and happiness in the training of possible future Northwestern players.

Two Northwestern men were placed on the mythical All-State Eleven for 1930. They were Captain Cochran and McGee. This is the second consecutive year this honor has been paid these men. Demuth, center, was placed on the second team.

JOHN W. McCORMICK

In Coach McCormick, Northwestern has a product of her own handiwork. He is just one of us. His loyal boosting of clean athletics and Northwestern, has won the respect and admiration of all the fans and coaches of Northwestern Oklahoma, as well as in the rest of the conference. His work at Northwestern has reflected credit upon the institution as well as bringing praise to himself and teams.

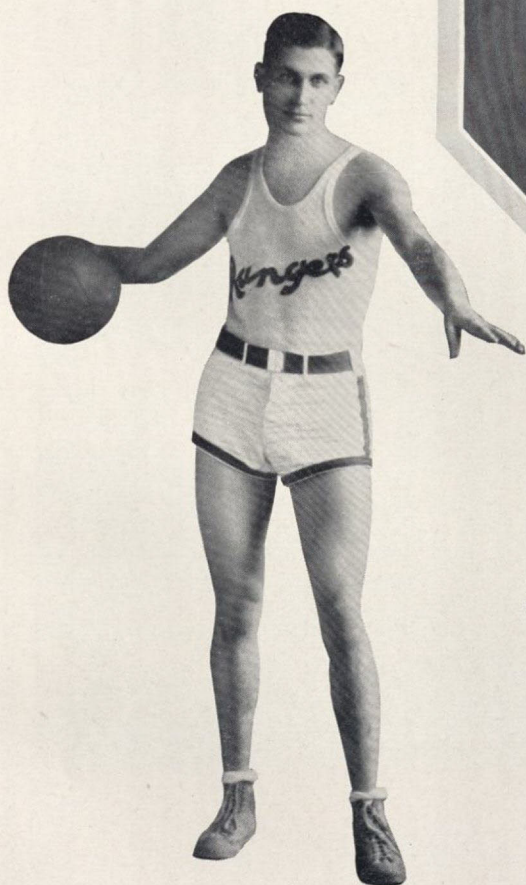

John has attended many coaching schools and as a result, always produces a good basket ball team. McCormick is at all times interested in the advancement of athletics, and the betterment of his branch of the games.

REVIEW OF SEASON

With only four lettermen returning for basketball this season, the chances for a winning team looked slim. Although not having the reserve strength of former years, Northwestern made an enviable record and had a team of real fighters. Their indomitable spirit brought them victory in many games.

The squad got off to a flying start when they defeated St. John's College of Winfield, Kansas, 50 to 7, in the first game of the season.

The Rangers next made a six game road trip into Kansas and Missouri. They were successful in winning the first four games, defeating Bethel, Friends, and two from the Emporia Teachers. In the last two games of this trip, the Rangers lost to the National Champion Maryville Teachers by close scores.

The next game was played on the home court and was with Phillips "66", an independent team from Bartlesville. Although the Rangers were defeated 22 to 29, it was a hard fought game, and very fast, keeping the crowd on their feet throughout the entire contest.

The Rangers next met Northeastern in their first conference tilt, and easily defeated them 39 to 27.

The conference champions, East Central, came to Alva and engaged in one of the hardest fought games of the season, winning by a one point margin.

Following the East Central game the Rangers entertained the fast Maryville Teachers. This game was also very fast and the Rangers were able to win 29 to 27. This victory somewhat avenged the two defeats Maryville handed them earlier in the season.

The Rangers next journeyed to East Central where they were badly defeated 50 to 27. But not dismayed, the Rangers journeyed on down to Durant and defeated Southeastern 38 to 33, bringing them back to a 500 percentage standing in the conference.

Southeastern was again defeated in the next game 35 to 26 at Alva.

The Rangers met Northeastern next, for the second time, and for the second time defeated them 47 to 32. Following this game, the Rangers took a two game trip, playing Central at Edmond and Southwestern at Weatherford. They easily defeated Central 49 to 34, but bowed to the fighting Bulldogs 37 to 32.

Friends visited the Alva court next, and the Rangers proved their superiority by easily defeating them 39 to 19.

Southwestern also visited the Alva court and engaged in the roughest game of the season. At times one wondered if he was not at a football game. The outcome was in doubt throughout the game, but Southwestern succeeded in again turning in a victory 36 to 34.

sixty-eight

The Rangers played their last conference game with Central and were defeated by a lone point 27 to 26. This placed Central in second place, and Northwestern was pulled down to third.

Emporia Teachers came to Alva for a two game series and were swamped by the Rangers in the first game 37 to 19. But the Alva boys were off form the second night, and the visitors won 28 to 23.

The Rangers entered the National A. A. U. Basketball tournament held in Kansas City March 9-15 and were successful in going to the third round. In the first game with the Mo. Pacific Independent team from Houston, Texas, the Rangers won 37 to 18.

In the next game, the Rangers came out on the big end of a 34 to 20 score with the Haskell Indians. This was a hard fought contest throughout and only Northwestern's superior goal shooting enabled them to win.

In the third round, Northwestern lost a heart breaking game to the Young Men's Institute of San Francisco 21 to 19.

Northwestern fans should be proud of the showing made by the Rangers in the National Tournament this year in view of the fact that the best teams of the United States were there, and Northwestern was considered one of the really strong teams present.

Captain Ivan Marteney was selected as a forward on the all-state five. Manning was selected as the best center on the second all-state five string.

CAPTAIN MYRON WRIGHT

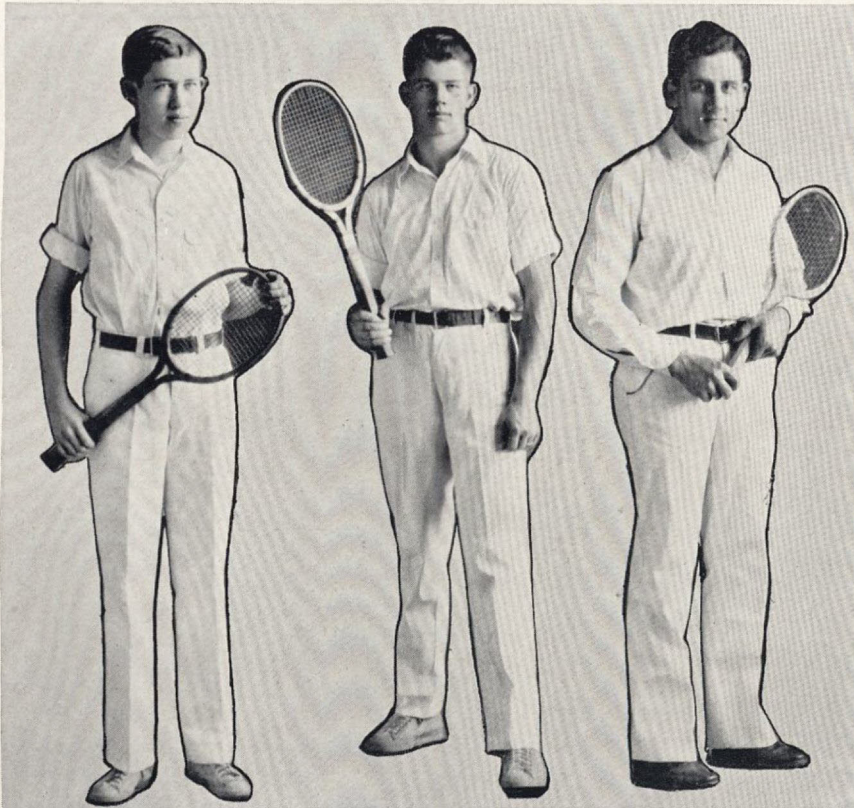

Captain Wright was easily the outstanding player on the Tennis squad last year. This was Wright's second year for Northwestern and a marked improvement was made over his first year.

He was runner-up in the State Singles Tournament, Semi-finalist in the Kansas Open, and Finalist in the Washita Valley Tournament.

TENNIS

The tennis squad last Spring was composed of Myron Wright, Marion Huneke, Jim Henley and Gully Walters. Only one matched tournament was played, and that was against Central at Edmond. Central emerged winner of this event. The team then entered the state tournament and fared but little better. Captain Wright went to the finals in the singles and lost in the final game only after a hard and hotly contested game. The prospects for tennis this year is quite promising, and a good record is likely to be accomplished.

*It isn't the things you do,
It is the things you leave undone
That give you a bit of heartache
At the setting of the sun.*

*The stone you might have lifted
Out of your brother's way,
A bit of heartsome counsel
You were hurried too much to say.*

*For life is all too short,
And sorrow is all too great
To suffer our slow compassion
That tarries until too late.*

*It isn't the things you do,
It is the things you leave undone
That give you a bit of heartache
At the setting of the sun.*

"THE 1931 RANGER"

This number of the Ranger, has been builded upon the belief that Northwestern is on the threshold of a new day. A day of a Bigger and Better Northwestern. This has been our theme. "A Ranger of the past, present, and future, has been carried out in the art work, in the photography, and on the printed pages.

Modernistic Art has been used, but we make no excuse for modern art, it is its own defense.

Numerous changes will be noted in the Ranger this year. There is the enlarged feature section, which has been shifted to the front of the book, while the class sections are nearer the back of the volume. A beauty section, in color, has been added, and a new treatment given the Building section. We hope they meet with your approval.

Criticism may be made of the small size of the faces in the class section, but we believe this effect is better on the small size of our pages, than larger faces which overbalance and show defects much plainer.

We have tried to make the 1931 Ranger a representative book, and were willing and ready to put in all pictures or writeups that were presented or desired.

We have kept the standards set by our predecessors in mind in building this volume, and what changes have been made were made because they were considered improvements.

We have not tried to out-do previous classes or staffs, nor claim our book is superior to theirs;—what we have tried to do is publish a Ranger that all might be proud of.

"THE 1931 RANGER"

The business manager of the annual has a most responsible position. Upon him falls the task of successfully financing the book, since only about fifty per cent of the money necessary for its production is obtained from the sale of books. This position has been ably filled by the business staff of the 1931 Ranger, with E. Milford Rice as head.

It is no small job to put out a school year book, as the cost is very great. New ideas and new schemes for raising money must ever be upmost in the mind of the business manager and his staff. This year, the Follies, Popularity contests, Senior play, and May fete was responsible for a large part of the money raised. The depression somewhat hurt the book sales this year, so added effort had to be put forth.

The management wishes to thank each and every person or firm that made possible the financing of the 1931 Ranger.

THE NORTHWESTERN

The Northwestern is the official student paper, printed once a week throughout the school year. Through this paper the students of Northwestern as well as alumni of the college, are informed of the regular activities and occurrences which are of interest to the students and friends. The paper is prepared by members of the Journalism department. The staff, chosen from members of the Journalism classes, is under the direction of Miss Icie F. Johnson, instructor.

In 1901 the first school paper was published as the N. T. N. Later the paper became the X-Ray and again the Mistletoe, finally assuming the name of the institution itself—The Northwestern. The early publications were individual enterprises, published once a month, under the authority of a publication committee. In 1927 Northwestern College established a Journalism Department, and the school paper, under the direction of the department, became a seven column paper published twice a week. In 1928 the Northwestern became an eight column weekly paper. The department has succeeded in making the editions worth while as well as the undertaking a success.

Pi Kappa Sigma has the distinction of being the oldest National Sorority on the campus of Northwestern.

The aim of Pi Kappa Sigma through the many years of its existence has been mutual helpfulness and betterment of young womanhood. Each year the desire for high ideals, scholarship and service has grown stronger. The alumnae of Pi Kappa Sigma, who are holding responsible positions over the state show that the ideals of the sorority are strong enough to remain with the girls after graduation. Pi Kappa Sigma's magazine, "The Laurel", published three times a year and recognized as one of the best of the sorority magazines, is a splendid medium by which all the chapters keep in touch with one another and are inspired to greater things.

Delta Chapter, formerly the Shakespeare Club at Northwestern, became a part of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority April 4, 1916. Because Delta Sigma Epsilon has organized chapters only in schools of high rank, it has no inactive chapters and the largest number of active chapters of Educational Sororities. They are located in various colleges throughout the United States, from New York to California. Alumnae Clubs are the result of girls keeping the sorority spirit after leaving school. Delta Sigma Epsilon has fifteen such clubs. Through work and social affairs, the sorority invites the interests of the undergraduates who realize the helpfulness of friendship. It also desires to uphold scholarship, to develop each girl as a co-operator and leader, and to cultivate the highest standards of womanhood.

The activities of Delta Chapter during the school year, 1930-31, have been entertaining with parties, picnics, teas, dances, dinners, and open house on several occasions; the publication of two student directories; the presentation of two chapel programs, a short play and a fashion show; the celebration of the Chapter's fifteenth anniversary; the assisting in Ranger Follies with a stunt in which all the active members and pledges took part; the observance of Mother's Day; and the sponsoring of a three-act play, which was directed by one of the active members. A new Founder's Day ritual was used at the Founder's Day Banquet and was then adopted as the official ritual. In order that they might be of more service to the community the members of Delta Sigma Epsilon cooperated with the social service group of Alva.

Sigma Sigma Sigma was originally a Liberal Arts College Sorority and existed as such for a number of years. Realizing the need for a National Educational Sorority, the change was made. The original group was founded April 20, 1898, at Farmville, Virginia, and became an educational group in 1911.

Sigma Sigma Sigma is now a strictly professional group whose purpose is to inspire its members with the conviction that it is a privilege as well as a responsibility to be a teacher.

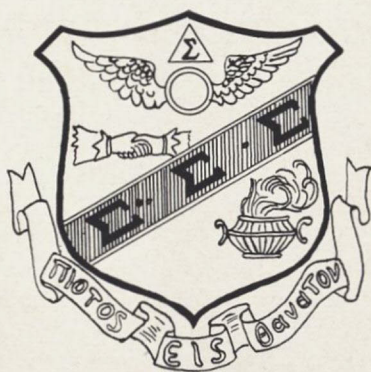

The Xi chapter was installed at Northwestern on December 1, 1915. It has stood for the same ideals as the other twenty-nine chapters in various Teachers' Colleges in the United States. Its many chapters bear witness that the sorority is a success in its field.

Besides supplying the social side of the student life, the sorority emphasizes social service, college activities, and scholarships. Of the two hundred girls initiated into Xi chapter since its installation in 1915, more than one hundred fifty have received Life Certificates and a degree from Northwestern.

Y. W. C. A.

Hidden under one of the gables of the Administration building is found the room of the Young Women's Christian Association. If one entered the room, she would find a group of congenial, lively girls who would bid her welcome, and ask her to join the task at hand. The purpose of the Y. W. is to seek a full and creative life for itself and for all people. Its ideals are high and its fellowship democratic.

The college Y. W. C. A. has found the world an interesting place in which to live, since there are so many interesting things to study and so many ways to be of service to mankind. In answer to the call of the American Tree Association to plant trees as a memorial to George Washington, the girls planted about fifty Chinese elms around the inner edge of Newby Field.

For several weeks preceding the planting, a study was made of the care, the identification and uses of many of the local trees. Following this study, the meetings were devoted to famous hymns and their writers. A small service of mending the hymnals of the various churches of the city was carried on during this study. Other fascinating topics were also discussed, such as beliefs of the Navajo Indians, stars of the winter sky. Navajo rugs were also sold.

The College "Howdy day" in the fall, the information bureau at the beginning of each new term, the Spring party are now traditionally sponsored each year by Y. W. This year the association hopes to be represented at the regional conference at Hollister, Mo., by a few delegates.

May it be again said, that if any measure of success has been achieved this year, it is due to the loyal co-operation of many of its individual members, the leadership of the cabinet, the inspiration of Miss Fisher, and the faith and financial backing of the Y. W. council members.

The Y. W. C. A. is closing the year with a happy feeling, looking forward to another year of new responsibilities and greater service.

ART CLUB

The Art Club was founded in September, 1929. Its purpose was to develop appreciation of the beautiful through the study of art and craft processes, from practice, and mutual help. Some interesting projects were successfully carried out. Instructive exhibitions of Japanese prints, etchings, and styles were sponsored by the club during the year.

The Art Club was reorganized December 12, 1930. Its aim is to stress the fine art of living. Those expressing a sincere interest in art and its practical application are eligible for membership. The meetings, which are held each Wednesday, though very informal, are outstanding for their cultural as well as their practical value.

Among the special projects carried out this year was a study of American artists and their works. Of special interest were those who are living today. Each member kept a scrap book which contained pictures, clippings, and other items pertaining to art, which were of interest. Since many of the members will teach art, these collections will be a help in vitalizing the subject.

Some beautifully tooled leather articles including purses, billfolds, and key cases, were made. Photograph tinting and textile painting occupied a share of the time. Some very pretty pastel pictures were also made.

Much credit for the achievements of the club are due our President, Mary Adrian, and our Sponsor, Miss Ruth Boyce, as well as the other officers and members without whose unfailing interest and diligent work, no progress could have been made.

WOMEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION

"Physical Education should aim to provide an opportunity for the individual or group to act in situations that are physically wholesome, mentally stimulating and satisfying, and socially sound."

There are three objectives for the Womens' Physical Education Department at Northwestern. First, the needs of the individual from the corrective standpoint so that each girl will have a complete physical development. Second, the opportunity to acquaint each girl with some activity so appealing to her that she will continue it in later life. This might be some form of dancing, sport or game. Last, the professional needs or the preparation of each girl for the type of work she selects. This is usually in the field of teaching, so special courses are offered in preparation for each teaching situation whether it be a rural, grade or adult group.

*For you, I could forget the gay
Delirium of merriment,
And let my laughter die away
In endless silence of content.
I could forget, for your sake,
The utter emptiness and ache
Of every loss I ever knew—
What could I not forget for you?*

*What could I not forget? Ah me!
One thing I know would still abide
Forever in my memory,
Though all of love were lost beside—
I yet would feel how first the wine
Of your sweet lips made fools of mine
Until they sung, all drunken through—
“What could I not forget for you?”

PHI BETA SIGMA

Beta Chapter

Northwestern State Teachers College

Alva, Oklahoma

Early in the year, 1925, a chapter of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity was established at Northwestern. Phi Beta Sigma is a national honorary, scholastic, fraternity for colleges of education. It was recently founded with the parent chapter at Norman, Oklahoma. The chapter located at Northwestern is Beta Chapter, being the second to receive a charter. Its establishment was the result of a petitioning body of six members headed by Dr. J. V. L. Morris. Since its establishment, ninety-six new members have been received making a total of one hundred-three.

The members of the petitioning group were Dr. J. V. L. Morris, Dr. T. C. Carter; Prof. E. B. L. Hardy, Amata Camp, Roy Daniels and Everett L. Cosart, who became charter members of Beta Chapter.

Members are elected from the degree class in the college, the fifteen per cent ranking highest in scholarship, being eligible. Faculty members may be elected on the same basis as students.

This fraternity has already had the effect of stimulating efforts in scholarship, and is expected to have a wholesome influence for more thorough scholarship at Northwestern.

THE COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

ALBERT GALE, Conductor

The personnel of this organization is limited to players who have attained satisfactory technical proficiency and have had some orchestral training. Rehearsals are held daily throughout the school year and summer session. The full orchestra is featured at assembly several times each year. At each annual meeting of the Northwestern district of the O. E. A. special programs have been presented by the orchestra. The outstanding concert of the year is usually given late in January or early in February and the program for each of these concerts is built around some central musical idea. For instance the program given in 1929 showed the influence of the primitive on our present-day music. In 1930 compositions were chosen to illustrate the development of musical form and varying national tendencies, while this year the suite and ballet music predominated. These programs have a definite educational value. Bach, Hayden, Handel, Mendelssohn, Schubert, Grieg, Tchaikovsky and other masters have been frequently heard as well as the best contemporary composers. A group of about twenty-five players goes on tour each spring. Descriptive program booklets with analysis by the conductor have added much to the interest in all the concerts.

The A Cappella Choir, although of brief history, has grown to be one of the major musical organizations on the campus of Northwestern. Organized a year ago with only twelve members, the group drew favorable comment from the leading state papers for the type of music presented as well as for the quality of performance. This year the membership has doubled, and the work of the group has been extended in proportion. Their program includes madrigals and other secular part song, as well as the chorals, notets and masses of Sullivan, Gounoud, Stainer, Palestrina and others of the church composers. A feature of the years work, has been the singing of the choral setting of the text from the Ninety-first Psalm, composed and dedicated to the Choir by Professor E. B. L. Hardy, conductor.

A capella singing is the most exacting of all ensemble singing, requiring flexibility and perfect blending of tone as well as fidelity to pitch. Consequently membership in the A Cappella Choir is the goal sought by a majority of the vocal students of Northwestern.

MACDOWELL MUSIC CLUB

The MacDowell Music Club which was organized January 28, 1930 is made up of the students of Mrs. Lois Skelton Binkley. Named after the great American composer who did much to help the music cause in America, the purpose of the Club is to promote the program of good music in the school and community; to acquaint themselves with the other phases of music from that which they study every day; moreover to give each the opportunity to perform for others at frequent intervals.

In September 1930, the club became federated with Oklahoma Federated Music Clubs. The creed of the Club is:

"For the common things of every day,
God gave us speech in a common way;
For the deeper things men think and feel,
He gave the poets words to reveal;
But for the higher broader things words cannot reach
He gave us Music, the soul's own speech."

N. S. N. DEBATING CLUB

In 1907 a group of forward-looking, progressive young men, realizing the need for training in logical thinking, self-expression and parliamentary procedure, banded together in an organization known as the N. S. N. Debating Club. During the ensuing twenty-three years that body has had a continuous existence, and is at present the oldest organization of its kind on the campus of Northwestern. Among its members have been hundreds of the leading men who have been students of the institution, who, going out into the business and professional world, have never failed to achieve honor for themselves and to reflect glory upon their alma mater.

Loyalty and service are the watchwords of N. S. N. Debating Club. During its entire existence the Club has been proud of its record in supporting and serving the school. Each member pledges himself to a three-fold purpose: to his own self-improvement through his efforts to stand high in scholarship and leadership; to fraternal unity; and to loyalty to and cooperation with the administration of the College.

The work of N. S. N. Club is varied to meet the objectives of its program. At each meeting a lesson in parliamentary law is presented by or under the supervision of a member of the College faculty. At the close of each term the members are examined on their knowledge of parliamentary procedure, whereby eligibility to hold office is determined. A considerable portion of each session is devoted to practice in debating, oratory and extemporaneous speaking, and each meeting closes with a constructive critical discussion. Social meetings are occasionally enjoyed, although they are by no means the greater portion of the Club's activity. Each year the Club conducts an oratorical contest for Freshman boys, thereby stimulating interest in speaking, and has thus served to lead many capable young speakers into the forensic program of the College.

The current year has been a banner year for N. S. N. Debating Club. The Freshman contest was won by Mr. Francis Albright and Mr. Herschel Gauley. Of the six men who have seen action in intercollegiate debate contests thus far, five, Mr. Glenn Moore, Mr. Brandon Frost, Mr. Fred Balentine, Mr. Everett Rauh and Mr. Albert Clark, are members of N. S. N. Club. Others are preparing to take part in the oratorical and extemporaneous speaking contests to be held later in the year. Still another group have already won their forensic spurs and are members of Pi Kappa Delta, National Honorary Forensic Fraternity.

The active membership has grown by the initiation of several ambitious young men. The Club is proud to announce that Dr. G. R. Crissman has been received into honorary membership. With his inspiration and that of Dr. W. W. Parker, Mr. William Hendricks and other honorary members, and under the guidance of Professor E. B. L. Hardy, sponsor, N. S. N. Club looks forward to many years of prosperity and service.

The Spanish Club of Northwestern has just completed a very interesting year. The purpose of the club, which was first organized in 1928, is to provide an opportunity for informal conversation in Spanish.

Special features of this year's work were—a trip to Norman to hear the program of Torreblanca's Tipica Orchestra from Mexico; the typical Spanish Christmas party, which is an annual affair of the club; a Spanish comedy, "Mi Novio Español", presented by club members; talks given by natives of Mexico, and by persons who have spent some time in that country.

The club is sponsored by Miss Jean Holland, professor of Spanish.

LITTLE THEATER

The Little Theater has completed another successful year at Northwestern. The aim this year was to encourage worthwhile dramatic performances and to train those who wish to coach plays in schools where they teach.

Several full evening plays were presented, the outstanding ones being "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "The Piper." Numerous one-act plays were given by the club. The Little Theater broadcast one of their plays over the radio from Enid.

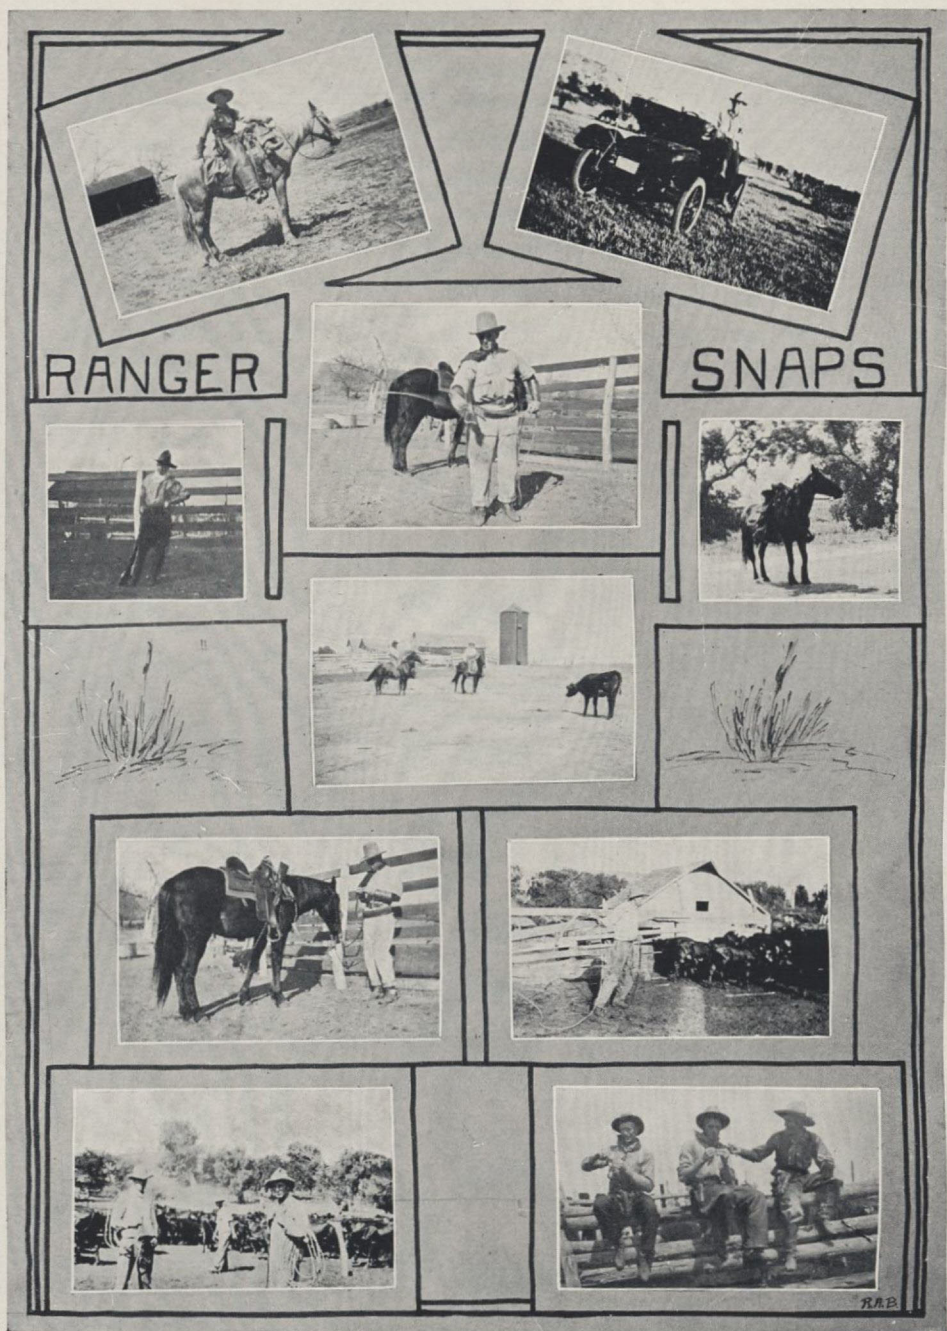

The Little Theater is quite new on the campus, but it is growing in interest and numbers and big things are expected of it next year.

IFUNNIES

For the convenience of certain faculty members who like to enjoy a good smoke once in a while, the "Specialist" was secured to build the above two-holer which now adorns our beautiful campus.

Our esteemed Freshman President takes a lesson in the art of necking. We would suggest that he get a subject that can keep awake.

Northwestern Co-Eds have a well developed taste for beauty in its natural form.

This "back to nature" scene may suggest a cause for some of the disturbances that occur often at 830 College, during a Sigma Tau initiation.

THE HERITAGE OF
NORTHWESTERN MEN

Dean "Percy"

The college man has to be glad about something or there will be nothing to write home about, and no one will know he is missing.

Northwestern men are glad that coeds are so frequent that any bozo can get a nine o'clock date at 8:35 p. m.

Glad that they are wise enough to never cut class.

Glad that boys like Tuelle Moore are pious enough to keep up the reputation of the rest;

Glad that coeds don't smoke;

Glad that country highways are so close to school;

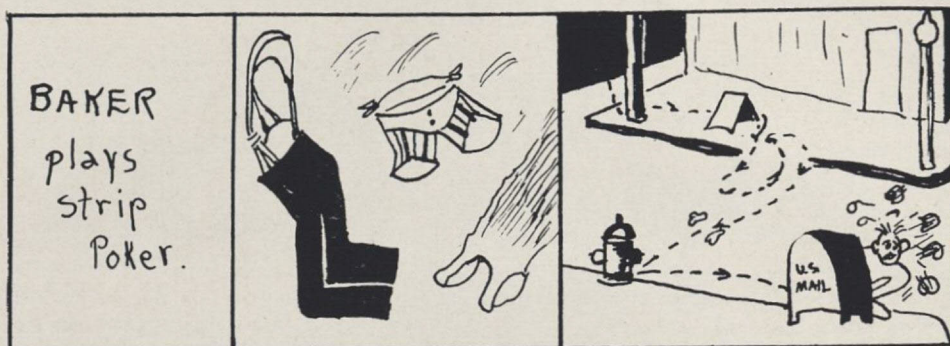

Glad that college professors are sometimes absent-minded;

Glad that Melvin Vickers isn't the prevailing type of manhood;

Northwestern men are not just glad, but they are almost happy, and they ought to be. God Bless them.

NORTHWESTERN A GREAT COLLEGE

Northwestern is truly one of America's great colleges. She has more than a hundred deluded souls, ranging in age from pre-adolescence up to sensility, hanging around to get what the bulletins advertise. She has sky scrapers, parks, meadows, barns, heating plants and tennis courts, amounting to quite a sum. If this would be equally divided among the students, it would be unprecedented. Then Prexy would start all over again for a bigger and better Northwestern. Northwestern has adequate departments of Science, Education, History and Commerce; Physical Education is taught in a big barn called the Gym, but this phase of the College is so trifling, that no one pays any attention to it. Northwestern has been going on for innumerable years. So has Prof. Wood. Scores of students are glad they are out. They are scattered all over the earth and underground.

Among the alumni are leaders in the affairs of the nation. Bryan is dead. Let's see, who the heck is the other one?

In athletics, Northwestern's qualities may be compared with any other school. There is no law against it. The coaches are called "Newby and McCormick" until a bad season comes along, then the alumni call them other names.

Debaters here have the biggest lines; the plans for the future are some of the grandest; the coeds are hottest and fastest; and the rates are reasonable for what is promised.

NORTHWESTERN IS A GREAT COLLEGE.

NORMA AT NORTHWESTERN

DEAR GEORGE:

It reminds me of when I went to C. E. Convention at Bass Lake, writing to you. This is the first time I have had time to think about it since I have been up here. Remember that summer, though, when we wrote every day for a whole week. It sure seems ages ago.

How are you getting along? I am fine and hope you find yourself the same. It is too bad your mother had a stroke. I remember when my Grandmother lived with us, she had them, and after the third one, she died. Let's see, your Ma's had two already, hasn't she?

Are you still working in the Malcom's Gen'l Merchandise? I hope you get more than $5.00 like you used to.

I don't suppose you are wasting much time thinking about me, but I'd like to hear from you anyway. You might tell Ethel to write if you should see her. Is she still working for Lawyer Brown? I'm glad I never took a commercial course in High. I can't stand so much smoke and swearing as goes on in some offices. But then Ethel's used to it I guess, being as how her Dad works in the grain elevator.

Well, give my regard to Shorty and to Goofus. Write if you find time.

Respectively,

100
S. W. A. K. xxxxxxxxx

Norma.

DEAR NORMA:

It sure seems funny writing to you. In answer to your questions, I am fine. Mr. Malcom's paying me $5.50 a week now, and Ma is better and gets up to get Pa's breakfast now. I want to go to town and get a job, but Ma has this unemployment on her mind. She is crocheting hot dish holders for the poor women whose men are out of a job. I wish she'd sew a button on my new shirt. I have one of those new ones, white with black collars, cuffs, and tie attached. I wanted a polka-dotted one, but Ma wouldn't get it.

The town sure seems dead. I went with some kids Saturday night to see Hoot Gibson in "Untamed". It sure was keen. Joan Crawford will be here next Sat. in "Beds of Passion". I sure want to go, but Ma may hear of it, and make me go to choir practice.

I saw your pa on the street the other day buying wire fence. I guess his stock's been getting out into the neighbors wheat.

I had to chloroform a mess of puppies this morning. They were ugly, but cute as the dickens in some ways.

I guess I better quit.

Yours truley,

George.

AS THE OLD SAYING GOES

"Don't be dumb like a Phi Beta Sigma". If you want to be a wise guy and get ahead on the campus, you've got to know your guff. With fifteen minutes a day you'll soon be as hot as a Sigma Tau . . . know your campus dope as cold as Dean Shockley's "Thou shalt nots". And don't forget, a quart of Delta Sig pledge pins will be given to the author of the best set of questions submitted to the registrar before May 1st, 1931. Write on one side of the sheet only and if you are a Tri Sig get somebody to translate your answer in English.

1. What did Assembly need this year?
2. Why don't the Pi Kappas like the Tri Sigs?
3. What is one thing the Alpha Sigs will never be?
4. What is the outstanding characteristic of any Sigma Tau?
5. What is the principal trouble the Tri Sigs have in rushing?
6. Where can you always find a good date if you like that kind?
7. Who was fond of Dennie Dennis?
8. Who is the chestiest guy on the campus?
9. How many girls in Northwestern smoke?
10. Who are the most consistent courtiers on record?
11. Do you get slammed anywhere in this section?

AND NOW TO BED

Here closes another volume of the RANGER. No regrets, no apologies. For our many mistakes we take all responsibility. If this volume is well received, it is worth the responsibility and criticism.

We wish to thank the endless number of friends who told us how to improve this year's RANGER. We must express our sincere thanks to those who actually aided whatever success the 1931 RANGER may have: The Southwestern Engraving Company, The Co-Operative Publishing Company; The Ellis Studios for helping us out of a pinch, and the good Alva Merchants who so kindly contributed ads and financial aid. We thank those who gave us Moral support. And we thank Providence the job is done.

"Typographical error" is a wonderful alibi. We won't use it when you rush over to tell us we misspelled your name, or got you in the wrong class. Nor will we lay it on to sleepless nights. True, midnight oil was burned. If your children, however, upon entering Northwestern of the Future, are attracted by the glamour of extra-curricular activities, make them prosperous athletes, but avoid the pitfall of yearbook editing. Honor, like love, is nothing to live on.

To the 1932 RANGER Editor, I pass on the RANGER office keys, its worries, its privacy, and its memory. May success be his.
